

Baltimore Metropolitan Council

Cross like your life depends on it.

The Baltimore Metropolitan Council invites you to attend the Baltimore region STREET campaign launch!!

See Street Smart enforcement operations in effect at the event!

Receive safety tips
for drivers, pedestrians and bicyclists

and see a large chalk drawing of the Baltimore region
highlighting "Cross
like your life
depends on it."

Patterson Avenue at Reisterstown Road Plaza
Wednesday, September 16th at 11:00 AM

JOIN! Mayor Sheila Dixon, Howard County Executive Ken Ulman, Carroll County Commissioner Julia Gouge, Harford County Director of Government and Community Relations Roxanne Lynch, representatives from the Baltimore Regional Transportation Board, Baltimore City Department of Transportation & Safety Division, and Regional Safety Representatives

Thirty-four percent of all pedestrian and bicycle crashes in Maryland occur in Baltimore City. The Baltimore metropolitan region averages 1,700 pedestrian and 500 bicycle crashes each year, resulting in an average of 50 fatalities per year. For more information on Street Smart please visit www.drivesafebaltimore.com Furthering our efforts as part of the Strategic Highway Safety Plan, additional outreach and coordination efforts led by staff are being planned with the Maryland Highway Safety Office and local Comprehensive Traffic Safety Program coordinators who work with local law enforcement and educators.

Use crosswalks. Obey signals. Look left, right, left.

Police are enforcing safety laws!

DriveSafeBaltimore.com

Choose Safety for Life.com

For more information contact 410-732-0500 ext. 1055 or syanovitz@baltometro.org.